1 WARM WELCOME Andy Linares, founder and CEO of Bug Off Pest Control Center and host of the New York Pest Expo, addressed the crowd and previewed the day's agenda.

2 A FULL HOUSE Bug Off Pest Control Center hosted its 22nd event on Nov. 8, with the theme "Natural Intelligence," at the George Washington Bridge Doubletree Hotel in Fort Lee, N.J. Pest Management Professional is a longtime sponsor.

3 DOUBLE DUTY Syngenta's Jonathan Davis, left, manager, and Dr. Tim Husen, BCE, PHE, PCQI, technical services representative, manned the booth at the New York Pest Expo. Later, Dr. Husen presented a session on the finer points of perimeter pest control.

4 PREMIER PRESENTER Dr. Jamel Sandidge, BCE, the national director of technical services for Nisus Corp., was the event's first speaker. He shared news headlines of restaurant closures and disease outbreaks stemming from a lack of commitment to sanitation: "If they had pest control, if they had you guys, these stories would not exist. Focus on health, focus on disease transmission and the correlation to sanitation."

5 BUILDING BRIDGES Isabelle Lucero, education and compliance officer for J.T. Eaton, spoke about some of the disconnects between academia and the industry. She also touched on possible areas of improvement.

6 BED BUG REFRESH MGK Technical Field Specialist Tommy Powell kicked off the afternoon sessions and discussed the history, biology, behavior and other information about Cimex lectularius.

7 THUMBS UP At the Expo, Neogen's Peter Daniello showed off the new thumb-driven design of the SureKill Gel Bait Pro Applicator.

9 NICE TO SEE YOU Jordan Brooks, executive VP and general counsel for Steri-fab, left, and Nisus Northeast Regional Manager George Williams, ACE, PHE, were on hand to share some new innovations with attendees.

11 ONE-MAN SHOW Andrej Branc highlighted RoBan Barrier and other PelGar USA offerings at the trade show.

12 CUSTOMER CONNECTION Kim Geissel, the northeast regional sales manager for Catchmaster Pro, was on hand to talk with attendees.
